

Best Wilson Pastoral Care Program

Best Wilson Family Law is currently trialling a Pastoral Care Project.

Over the more than 18 years of combined practice of Best Wilson partners Reagan and Kara they have seen time and again the importance of their clients having support from someone who not only understands their grief, distress and sometimes anger, but can also provide a voice of reason.

Pastoral Care is often thought of as purely spiritual guidance, but at its core it is about supporting people in their pain, loss and anxiety and their triumphs, joys and victories. It takes a special person to offer this assistance, and we are very fortunate to welcome Rosie Harrison to our team at Best Wilson.

Rosie is a Teacher and Deputy Principal by trade, but holds extensive qualifications in education, leadership, counselling and child development. Rosie is an expert in the area of child development and is a trained parenting program facilitator. She is also a trained facilitator in the Seasons Grief and Loss Counselling Program for children.

Whilst Rosie will not personally work with your children, she is in an ideal position to assist you in ensuring that your children move positively through the post-separation experience.

Rosie's role, first and foremost, is to listen. She provides positive support and practical advice in putting things back together after separation.

In addition to all of the above, Rosie can genuinely say she has walked in your shoes in moving forward following separation having gone through the process herself. Accordingly she offers an invaluable insight into the practical "things" that you might need to deal with.

Rosie is also familiar with other family related services available throughout the Toowoomba community which may be of assistance and is able to help you make contact with some of the useful agencies in the area.

We are unaware of any other initiative of this nature, and are excited about how Rosie may be able to assist our clients.

There is no further cost in speaking to Rosie, but it is necessary to schedule time with her via our Reception staff. As a member of our staff Rosie is bound to ensure your confidentiality is maintained at all times and will work closely with your Lawyer to ensure that you are cared for in every respect by the team.
