

How to spend more time on the GOLF COURSE & IMPROVE your CASHFLOW in ONE easy step!

Mother Nature only gave us 24 hours in a day, seven days in a week.

There never seems to be enough time, does there? We usually need about 8 hours for sleep, another couple or so to take care of ourselves and 8 for work....it doesn't leave much time left over?

As a Taxi Operator, your time is forever being taxed - a new car to be put on the road, car #xxx needs to go in for its machinery inspection. There's a problem with supply of parts for another car, driver xyz has hurt himself and won't be able to drive for 5 or 6 days.....and so it goes on.

Perhaps one of the more frustrating aspects of the job is putting up with Accident Claims. Our research shows that there are about 12-20 reported crashes per day in Brisbane. Heaven knows the number of unreported bingles of a lesser nature. No wonder business is booming in the smash repair industry! As your car is off the road, you are going to suffer a loss of income also. Recovery of these losses needs to be actioned immediately.

But before we get there, who is at fault for the collision? Is the driver's account going to withstand scrutiny? What about getting the other party to pay, let alone his insurer.....

These considerations (and no doubt many more) may lead you to seek representation in one form or another to assist you with recovery. Here are some things to think about when you appoint a representative..

1. Is your representative experienced in dealing with motor vehicle accident claims? – 20+ years experience would be just about unbeatable.
2. Can your representative access data such as registration details and police reports?
3. Does your representative have knowledge of how your business operates?
4. Can your representative advise as to strategy or tactics to ensure best chances of recovery?
5. Will your representative be able to pursue your claim all the way through the courts if need be? (Remember only a solicitor can do this, recovery agents can only attempt to pursue a claim so far and NEVER all the way)

If you decide to pursue claims on your own behalf, do you have the necessary tools to do so? What are you missing out on because it becomes too hard, or you have left it for too long. Your rate of recovery of losses after an accident is critical to keeping a good cashflow in your business.
